ST. LOUIS.

Interesting Facts About the Great City of the West--Her People, Steamboats, Merchants' Exchange, etc., etc.

St. Louis, Mo., March 9, 1872.

Editors Constitution: Our last letter left us steaming up the Mississippi, within some 50 miles of the city. The river banks assumed a more picturesque and varied landscape, though nothing to compare with the views on the Hudson. The tall smoke stacks of Caronidelet Iron Works rose up in perspective far ahead of us, and finally passing these with numerous other manufacturing establishments which line the river's bank below St. Louis, and send vast volumes of black coal smoke into the atmosphere above, we swept along side the great barges or flats engaged in landing ice down from above, to be packed into numerous ice houses near the city, for summer use.

We stepped ashore on the rocky levees of St. Louis. Impressions No. 1, 2 and 3, and 4, great town, wonderful boats, wonderful river, astonishing people, but the smoke, the awful smoke. Reader, have you ever visited Pittsburg, Pennsylvania? If so you have never forgotten it. Well, St. Louis is not as bad as Pittsburg---oh, no, not that bad yet---but we sadly fear it will be some day. A week yesterday we landed from the "Belle St. Louis." If we were to undertake a narration of but a third of the wonders---splendors---or great curiosities of this Western metropolis (which has not as yet one-half fulfilled its destiny) that have been inspected and could be reported on in that short week, we are sure your patience would give out, and the columns of THE CONSTITUTION would be unrighteously infringed upon.

We call your attention to a few, most prominent:

1. The people, so far as our experience has gone, are liberal minded, communicative, frank, energetic and honorable. Although the population is made up of every feature and style of man from all quarters of the globe, there seems an undercurrent of great force which influences the popular heart that the Great West is broad enough and great enough for all, and there is a welcome for all who will take it as they find it, faults or no faults, virtues or vices, as they come in order. We have met an open-handed hospitality which we are sure could not hope for reward, and in some cases has proven of a style and profuseness that surprised us.

2. The river and her steamboats are a very striking feature in the make up of St. Louis. To a very large degree the city is dependent upon them for her commercial importance. Many of them are gorgeous and costly beyond description.

We must not dismiss the subject without a notice of perhaps the costliest, largest, most profusely furnished boat on the river, "The Great Republic," which we visited to-day. We class her alongside of the celebrated "Bristol," plying the New York and Newport line on the Eastern waters, whose fame has gone over the water to Europe. With a beam of 335 feet, breadth over all of 97 feet, a carrying capacity of 2,000 tons, a length in main cabin of 355 feet, and height of cabin alone of 18 feet, a pilot house built high up in the air, the top of which we should say is fully 75 feet above the water level; water-wheels whose huge diameters measure 38 feet; a stroke in the two cylinders of the piston rod of 10 feet, and diameter on the outer face of her cylinders more than five feet across, she rides the broad bosom of the Mississippi an acknowledged royal queen among a thousand wonderful competitors. It was in this princely establishment, that still more princely apartments were fitted up with truly oriental profuseness, for the Duke Alexis' trip down to New Orleans. Being caught, however, and locked in ice above this point, the "Great Republic" was compelled to resign the honor of transporting the royal person to a smaller boat named the "James Howard," which the owners of the "Republic" subsequently chartered for the occasion, thus complying with their contract. We regret that space, nor time, will admit of entering upon a description in detail of the four state-rooms, as originally prepared for the Duke's luxurious comforts. It would remind your readers of a fairy tale far more than a reality, which we actually and critically scrutinized.

3d. Our Southern merchants may wish to know something of the "Merchants Union Exchange," where all the provisions, breadstuffs and produce that are sold or consigned South from this point are bargained for. Every day since reaching the city we have been honored with an admission ticket to this great central point of commercial interest. No adequate conception of it can be conveyed except to an eye witness. Here you meet some three hundred or four hundred men in an immense hall, known familiarly as "change," who do business six to seven miles apart. Line after line of tables containing samples of every grade and variety of grain, flour, liquors, fruits, sugars, coffee and a host of other products, foreign and domestic, meet the eye, (less including dry goods and Yankee notions) civilities, courtesies and compliments are hastily exchanged, then business begins; telegraphic reports, railroad and river receipts, and shipments, are hurriedly, but keenly, examined; the weather indications as indicated on a large weather map, by a system of sign, are looked at, sales are made, bargains struck, market reports are prepared, visitors are requested to call again and "be at home." Two hours have quickly winged their flight, and in that time the vast bulk of business, amounting often to a million or upwards that moves and animates the great west, is transacted, and men return to their offices to condense, classify or slip off the merchandise that a few minutes intercourse has set in motion. Gen. G. T. Beauregard was, yesterday, one of the visitors on Change.

THE SOUTHERN STATES.—The London Chemist and Druggist, of a recent date, says truly of the Southern States: "If the Southern United States are not the garden of the world, it is rather the fault of those who are responsible for their cultivation and development, than from any other cause on the face of the earth. Cotton, sugar and tobacco are products of such immensity as to dwarf those which other lands bring forth. Vast quantities of wheat and rice are exported. Luxurious but uncultivated vegetation also testifies to its immense resources which are forthcoming. Watered by the grandest rivers, rich in every variety of soil, millions of acres of swamp yet unreclaimed, make it a territory which will supply the world."

A NEW USE FOR THE DOXOLOGY.—A good deacon, who was naturally a high-tempered man, had been used to beat his oxen over the head, as all his neighbors did. It was observed that when he became a Christian, his cattle were remarkably docile. A friend inquired into the secret. "Why," said the deacon, "formerly, when my oxen were a little contrary, I flew into a passion and beat them unmercifully. This made the matter worse. Now, when they do not behave well I go down behind the load, sit down and sing Old Hundred. I don't know how it is, but the psalm tune has a surprising effect upon my oxen."

OFFICIAL JOURNAL OF THE STATE.
OFFICIAL JOURNAL OF THE COUNTY.
THE LARGEST CITY, COUNTY AND STATE CIRCULATION.
DEFIES REFUTATION.

Morning Edition.

ATLANTA:
SATURDAY, MARCH 15, 1873.

SUBSCRIBE TO THE CONSTITUTION.—A full report of the decisions of the Supreme Court is furnished to THE CONSTITUTION exclusively, by the Reporter of the Court.

TO CORRESPONDENTS.—We do not read anonymous letters and communications. The name and address of the writer are indispensable. Rejected communications we cannot undertake either to return or preserve.

☞ About five millions of the claims presented by Southern loyalists have been entirely rejected by the claims committee of Congress. A bill will shortly be submitted to Congress providing for the payment of something less than half a million.

The Increase of Property in the State in the Last Year.

The Comptroller General informs us that the increase in the State's wealth last year was over NINE MILLIONS OF DOLLARS.

This is cheering.

Savannah.

The value of city lots in Savannah, under assessment for 1872, is $5,307,465, and of improvements $11,403,802, showing an aggregate valuation of $16,711,267.

This is good. It shows an increase over 1871 of $1,369,365.

Prize Candy Gambling.

The Supreme Court of Tennessee has just decided that prize candy selling is gambling, and A. D. Eubanks has been convicted of violating the gambling statutes of the State.

The Court held that the prize candy selling was a game of chance in which money was paid for the chance of winning more or less in value than the money paid.

The Recalcitrant Republican Senators.

A Washington dispatch to New York on the 13, says that the recalcitrant Republicans decided to send a Senator, probably Tipton, to Cincinnati to confer with the leaders of the Liberal Republican Convention. Sumner, Trumbull, Schurz, Fenton and Tipton have had repeated conferences, and have agreed not to abide by the action of the Philadelphia Convention if it nominates Grant, but look to Cincinatti for a candidate. Sumner is understood to favor Davis.

Blockade of Freight.

The Nashville papers state there is a blockade of freight at Nashville. The freight depot has been closed for a day or so against through freight to allow the accumulation to be forwarded.

On Sunday night twenty-eight freight trains were moving at the same time on the Nashville and Chattanooga Railroad.

The jam is ascribed to the prohibition of freight trains on Sunday on our State Road, by which two days' freight accumulates at Chattanooga.

Henry Clews.

Henry Clews, banker, Wall street, New York, keeps "pegging away" in the newspapers, in the vain hope that, by blackening somebody's character in Georgia, he will be enabled to fasten his iniquitous bond speculations upon the people of the State. "It's no use," Mr. Clews; the people of Georgia know their rights, and can neither be cajoled or intimidated into surrendering them to you nor to "any other man." Jam claudite.—Sav. Republican.

☞ Murat Halstead, editor of the Cincinnati Commercial, and Wash McLean, editor of the Enquirer, are savagely at loggerheads.

McLean comes at Halstead with "assassin," "able-bodied scoundrel," and "lecherous beast," while Halstead fires back such gentle, soothing confectionary as "sneak-thief, felon."

There seems to be no blood-shedding in prospect. These savage fellows spill nothing but ink, use no weapons but pens, and indulge in no fighting but a war of mud.

The Lesson of New Hampshire.

The Chicago Times in commenting on the Democratic defeat in New Hampshire, says the defeat is abundantly compensated by the moral which it affords. This moral is embodied in the obvious deduction that the Democratic party alone stands no shadow of chance to prevent the re-election of Grant. It infers that the hope of rescuing the country from imperialism and corruption depends solely on a union of all elements of opposition. To secure this union, and to achieve a victory which it almost assures, it asserts that it is necessary that the Convention at Cincinnati shall recognize the wide and spontaneous expressions of popular approval that have been elicited by the selection of the candidate which was made at Columbus.

True and Timely.

THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION makes some very sensible and opportune remarks regarding the political situation, the most significant portion of which we append. The present is truly an emergency in which all patriotic and conservative men have need for the exercise of all their vigilance and discretion. A revolution in the Government has been almost accomplished—not by the conflict of arms, but by the more alarming and absolute rulership of a party in power whose strength and organization has been too great for resistance in the mode in which revolutions are usually resisted.

This party has for ten or twelve years, while in the uninterrupted possession of all the departments of the Federal Government, been continuously advancing its work of breaking down all State prerogative and authority and concentrating all power in the government at Washington. The re-election of General Grant, with another Radical Congress, will unquestionably enable the ruling party to perfect the work now so near completion, and to impose upon the people a government very greatly different from that under which we lived prosperously for three score years and ten. This is the vital issue which the people of the country have to decide in November next—if, indeed, the Government has not already obtained such a mastery of the people as to enable it to secure by patronage, dictation or intimidation such a result as it chooses to demand.

It is an issue that rises above party organizations, and especially above party names. The momentous question to be decided is of too grave a character to permit any estrangement of conservative men, or to allow any personal or party prejudices to prevent a thorough union of such men. If, therefore, our friends of THE CONSTITUTION wish to be understood as insisting that the Democratic party organization shall, in view of this great peril, be so rigidly adhered to as to prevent a union and co-operation with it by conservative and patriotic men of other parties, we have only to say that we do not fully indorse their article to the extent of this exclusiveness, and that we take a broader view of the field of battle, and of the duty which Southern men especially owe to themselves and to their section.

Even while we write we receive tidings from New Hampshire that admonish us of the necessity of a concentration of all the conservative strength of the country to resist a revolution almost complete and a usurpation which, if not overthrown this year, will so firmly establish itself as to make opposition hereafter almost hopeless. We are summoned to a struggle, not for party but for country—not for administration but for preservation; and it would be folly in such a crisis to permit party names, jealousies or prejudices to stand in the way of the hearty union and co-operation of all men who agree in principle.—Columbus Enquirer.

☞ The question in Georgia just now is, was Henry Clews knowingly connected with the Bullock bond fraud? Georgians have generally agreed that he was. After, however, Clews has wined and whiskyed and dined, in New York, the Bond Committee, there is no telling what may be the report submitted to the Legislature. The committee had better stay in Atlanta.—Columbus Sun.

Be just, brother Sun. The Bond Committee have no purpose to be wined, whiskyed, or dined by Clews and his compeers. The committee will pay its own bills and do its duty faithfully. It is doing that duty well now. The members are able and conscientious gentleman. We are willing to trust them anywhere, and feel sure that our contemporary will, on reflection, withdraw the injurious suspicion of their integrity conveyed in its hasty paragraph. The duty of the committee is a delicate and difficult one. Let not our Democratic friends render that duty more perplexing by remarks calculated to weaken confidence in the committee.

OUR WASHINGTON LETTER.

The Condition and Prospects of the Labor Ticket--Senator Sherman Shows Up the Senate--Jefferson Davis a Radical Bugaboo--Dr. Mary Walker and Her Breeches--Bots.

WASHINGTON, March 12, 1873.

The Columbus nominations have been before the country for sometime, and it must be confessed that they have not been received with that enthusiasm anticipated. The Democrats, who are keeping their heads remarkably well, did not rush in blindly to the support of Davis and Parker, though it was generally, but privately, admitted that the ticket was a good one. The platform is objectionable, however in some of its features, and notably, that in support of a protective tariff. This could not find favor with the Democrats, while it is equally objectionable to liberal Republicans who would readily vote for the Labor Reform candidate on their personal merits. Should the Cincinnati convention ratify the proceedings of the Labor Reformers the movement would at once assume an importance which it cannot otherwise posses. This is not anticipated, however. Washington politicians who have been studying up the situation, predict that Messrs. Trumbull and Greely will be nominated at Cincinnati. In this case Davis and Parker would go to the wall, and it would be left to the Democrats to decide whether to nominate their own candidates or support the Cincinnati candidates without the formality of holding a convention. From present appearances a Democratic Convention will be held after those at Cincinnati and Philadelphia, and nominations made which can be supported consciontionsly by the party. This is purely speculation, however, and I give it for what it is worth.

THE DO-NOTHING SENATE.

Mr. Sherman read the Senate a well deserved lecture yesterday, at the close of a session entirely devoted to personalities. He announced that he had prepared a second, which he asked the Senate to hear. He then went on to show that three weeks had been spent in debating a resolution for an investigation of the New York Custom House; three weeks in defeating amnesty; and three weeks in discussing the sales of arms. In all this time the Senate had passed no bill of any importance, no bill relating to taxes or tariff, (Mr. Sherman himself defeated several bills of this description) no appropriation bill. All that had been done was to pass a resolution for final adjournment. The House, in the meantime, had passed eight appropriation bills, an amnesty bill, and a tariff bill, and is now ready to prepare a revenue bill. After hearing its shortcomings thus effectually exposed, the Senate adjourned. It is evident that a goodly number of honorable Senators have President-making on the brain; but they will have to come down to work, sooner or later, nolens volens, as the appropriation bill must be passed before adjournment.

A RADICAL BUGABOO.

Certain "trooly loil" members of the House of Representatives dread even the name of Jefferson Davis as the devil does holy water. Every time an amnesty bill has been proposed there have been inquiries as to how it would affect Mr. Davis, whether it would remove his disabilities or not. • Of late, so many bills removing disabilities, containing hundreds upon hundreds of names, have been introduced in the House, that the formality of reading them has been dispensed with. On every occasion some one of the "treaty bill," has popped up with an inquiry as to whether the name of Jefferson Davis might not have been slipped in. Yesterday, after the House had passed a large number of amnesty bills without the reading the names of those to be relieved, Mr. Shank, of Indiana, suggested that "the name of Jeff. Davis might get in this way." The Speaker replied that the enrolling clerks would notify him if that name should appear, and the little narrow-minded Radical legislators were relieved of thier apprehensions.

WOMAN'S DRESS.

Dr. Mary E. Walker has addressed a letter to one of our city papers on this subject. Mary herself looks like a forked radish, and is not prepossessing enough to make many converts. She never appears in public without a train of small boys after her, and frequently has to appeal to the police for protection. I subjoin the concluding paragraph of her letter, which is calculated to provoke a smile:

"This is the most serious and important question of the age, and if the United States Treasury were to be drained of its contents and given to women who would dress sensibly, as an inducement to establish a healthy condition of the mothers of the nation, it would do more towards making the United States a conqueror of the rest of the world than all the armies and navies that vigintillions of gold could purchase."

MERE MENTION.

The claims of Abbott, the bogus North Carolinian, to a seat in the Senate, will come up this week. Senator Carpenter is about the only man of any note who favors Abbott's preposterous claim.

The Senate Committee on Claims has decided adversely on the claim of R. H. Garrett, of Virginia, the owner of the barn in which J. Wilkes Booth took refuge from his pursuers, for compensation, for the destruction of his property, on the ground that Garrett was disloyal.

A prominent Democrat thinks Judge Davis too fat to be a good candidate for the Presidency, as he is not likely to be aggressive enough if elected.

At the rate which Congress is making appropriations for public buildings in different parts of the country, Atlanta ought to have a share.

It is reported that Donn Piatt's Capital is to become a Grant organ.

The Government is expecting trouble with the red skins as soon as the spring grasses are green.

The chances of Senator Wilson for a nomination to the Vice-Presidency on the ticket with Grant are in no respect warming.

TOMMY HAUCK.

A CURIOUS ARTICLE OF TRADE.—There is actually a considerable commerce in toads between France and England. A toad of good size and in good condition will fetch a shilling, twenty-five cents, in the London market, and a dozen of extra quality are worth £1, $5. You may see these imported toads in all the market gardens where the soil is moist and the owners of these gardens even prepare shelter for them. They pay their way by catching insects.—Springfield Republican.

☞ Isabella Beecher Hooker, sister of the Rev. Henry Ward Beecher, has addressed an appeal to the women of the United States, pointing out the incredible corruption of the Republicans, and calling upon them to transfer their allegiance to the Democratic party.

CARTERSVILLE LETTER.

Court--The Legislative Committee and Their Work--Frauds Discovered--Cotton--The Constitution.

CARTERSVILLE, GA., March 14, 1873.

Editors Constitution: This place has been quite lively this week. The Superior Court is in session, Judge Harvey presiding; transacting business rapidly. The case of the State vs. Rev. James Pierce was continued to the adjourned term in April. Much interest is felt and manifested in this case. Your readers will doubtless remember the circumstances, therefore I will not repeat them.

Two of the legislative committees have been here two days doing good work. I learn that the Committee on the management of the Western and Atlantic Railroad have discovered large frauds, amounting to, perhaps, thirty thousand dollars, in connection with the Cherokee Railroad. It seems that the Western and Atlantic Railroad furnished engines, cars, iron and crossties without charge.

The committees are traveling in elegant style, but I was glad to learn that it was entirely without cost to the State. Former committees were not so patriotic. The committees dined with Colonel Lewis Tumlin today. The planters of Bartow are going in for cotton this year, and are using guano quite extensively.

What has become of Hoyt? Is he in jail, or has he given bond? We regret to see that G. W. Evans was allowed to make his escape.

The country requires that the utmost vigilance be exercised by the officers in regard to prisoners who have been arrested for plundering the people of Georgia; and such officers will be held to a strict accountability by the good people of the State.

THE CONSTITUTION is read with interest here. We admire your bold stand taken against Clews & Co., and all bond robbers. Lay on, and never cry enough until Georgia is redeemed. BARTOW.

WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, March 15.—Ordinance General Dyer is very ill.

Col. J. H. Baxter has been confirmed Chief Medical Surveyor at the Army House.

The Committee on Commerce were instructed to inquire particularly into the nature, extent and objects of an alleged combination of railroad interests known as the Southern Improvement Company, designed to control all the avenues of transportation from the oil region of Pennsylvania to the seaboard, to the oppression and injury of the producing classes.

The next vote was on the substitute offered by Ketchum, providing that all the lands granted by Congress in 1856 and 1864 for the construction of the St. Croix and Lake Superior Railroad, such grants having expired by limitation, are declared forfeited to the United States, and shall henceforward be subject to the homestead entry and settlements under the homestead act of 20th May, 1862, and that no part of such land shall be selected by, or inure to the benefit of any railroad company under any assumed grant to the United States, and that no land embraced in the grant to the St. Croix Railroad Company shall, in any case, revert to the Northern Pacific Railroad Company, and repealing all acts and parts of acts inconsistent with this provision. This last clause about the Northern Pacific Railroad was added to the substitute on motion of Banks.

In the Senate, Sherman occupied the time to adjournment on the tariff.

Dead Heads.

The following from the pen of Wm T. Tinsley, of the Lyons (N Y.) Republican, will be appreciated by newspaper editors who have been victims of the nuisance of which the writer complains:

It is common for certain classes of people to look upon newspaper editors as "deadheads" par excellence. But the truth is, there is no class of people so remorselessly and continuously filched from and imposed upon by dead-headism in myriad shapes, as these very newspaper editors themselves. We will give an instance or two, by way of illustration.

There is the man who has patented a new sort of thingumbob, for "regulating" the heat of stoves. He comes to us with a specimen of his thingumbob, and tells us it is the greatest blessing ever invented; it will save lots of money for poor people; only let it get into general use, and the community will rise up and call him blessed. He wants us to publish his invention through our columns for nothing; he pesters us with it, till we are strongly tempted to rise up and call him the reverse of blessed, and show him the door. However, we don't; we are too good-natured and too overwhelmingly polite. We don't even tell him he is a dead head.

There are the associations that get up schemes for benevolent purposes. Of course the editor must do their advertising for nothing; it "won't cost him anything" to give them a free notice. Perhaps he obliges them, and perhaps he shows them his advertising rates. Some of them, no doubt, are excellent people, and believe themselves in the right. Whatever else they are, however, they are dead-heads.

There are the temperance societies and missionary associations, and moral-reform agencies, and associations for the furnishing of the Hottentots with flannel drawers and cod-liver oil. "Can you ask us to pay you for advertising?" "Can you refuse to put in our notices of meetings, and so on, and have the hardihood to ask us for money when the poor Hottentots are perishing with cold?" Certainly not, dear dead-heads. Fetch on your notices, we will print them, provided they are not too long; but remember you are dead-heads.—Rowell's Reporter.

HOW TO ACQUIRE A GOOD MEMORY.—As a general thing we read too much and think about what we read too little; the consequence is that most of the people we meet know something, in a superficial way, about everything, and very little, in a thorough way about anything. Not a tenth part of what we read is remembered for a month After the book, magazine or newspaper is laid aside. Daniel Webster the last said how he remembered so accurately replied that he had been in the habit for years to reflect for a short time on what he read, and so fix all the facts and ideas worth remembering in his mind. Any one who does this will be surprised to find how retentive his memory will become, and how long, after reading a book or interesting article, the best portions there-of will remain.—Christian Observer.

THE COMING COMET.—The comet of M. Plantamour is not, however, one of the tamed, domesticated and eminently respectable comets of our system, but a wild and dangerous wanderer from the interstellar wildernesses. Of its constitution, whether gaseous or sound, it is yet impossible to judge, but we are assured that it is of enormous size, and is heading directly toward the earth. Should it consist of burning hydrogen, it would hardly fail to add very unpleasantly to the heat of August, while if it is a solid body, it will undoubtedly smash the earth to pieces, and convert it into scores of small meteoric bodies.—New York Times.

☞ A visitor to the Supreme Court of the United States says: "During the hour as you enter, on a raised platform, in silken robes, sits the nine Judges—supposed to be the most dignified tribunal in America—and I have no doubt it is, notwithstanding I have seen one of the Judges eat an apple with great gusto while seated on the bench, and another partake of molasses candy, and after the repast lick every one of his ten fingers with great satisfaction."

The Extent of England.

Hon. James Brooks, in a letter from Calcutta, speaks as follows: England, once more, one everlasting England! That little seagirt island has not only girdled the great isles of the world, and put its stamp upon them, but, here am I, in the portals of the great British East India Empire, the very magnitude of which is astounding. Think of it, over 200,000,000 of people, native and British in the Indian Government proper, under the British flag! Satiated with the very vastness of dominion here, the British Crown declines more land, and all the population it wants—nay, more, too, refuses, actually, to be bothered with yet more! Think of the revenue and expenditures of this British Indian Empire, $360,000,000 of our money, in coming and outgoing, each year. Think of its immense army, 320,000 in all, of whom 70,000 are European soldiers, the others, Indians, under British officers, all! Think of a Christian government over 110,000,000 of Hindoos, 25,000,000 of Mussulmans, 12,000,000 of Aboriginal Nothingarians, 3,000,000 of Buddhists, &c! What a medley of humanity to rule! What a mixture of laws, as well as of creeds, and of tongue, and languages! (There are sixteen, or more, languages that a British ruler ought to learn.) What a vast trade, some $350,000,000 of imports, and over $500,000,000 of exports! The little England at home, which governs all this vast territory and these millions of people dwindles, herself, into insignificance, when contrasted with this her mighty empire of the East.—Putnam County Standard. Feb, 17.

A Discourse Before the Wedding.

A wedding took place at Calvary Church, Louisville, Kentucky, of which Rev. W. H. Platt is rector, last Wednesday evening. It was looked forward to as an elegant and imposing affair and anticipations were realized. The Journal says:

The ceremony was set for nine o'clock, but by half-past eight the church was densely crowded and Mr. Platt, in order to compose the impatience of the congregation entertained them with a discourse upon the beauties, duties and responsibilities of the marriage relation in the light of the Episcopal service which was so soon to be performed. His hearers were highly delighted.

☞ A cool Kentucky critic calmly observes of Mrs. Moulton that "even as she sings she becomes transfigured before you, and her form rises to a rare and bewildering beauty, that scarcely Raphael himself, were he alive again, could adequately paint." When that critic began to come down, it was thought best by his friends to break gently to him the fact that he was still on earth; so they knocked him down, dragged him out of the hall by his heels, pulled out all his teeth, chloroformed him, and left him in an alley. Chicago Times.

☞ "Mother, where is the man to sleep?" asked a girl of fifteen of her mother, who had just offered a traveler a night's rest in their out-of-the-way hut. "I'll put him in with you and Jack and Sue and Kate and Bet, I suppose," was the reply, "and if it is too crowded one of you must turn in with me and dad and Dick and Tom and the twins."

COST OF RAILROAD TUNNELS.—The following gives the cost per lineal yard of some of the great railway tunnels: Mont Cenis, $975; Kilsby, Saltwood and Blotchingley, in England, $725, $590 and $380 respectively; Terfe Noire, on the Paris, Lyons and Mediterrean line, $150; Batignolles, near Paris, $476; Hauenstein, between Basle and Berne, Switzerland, $400; Moorehouse, New Zealand, $345; Hoosac, $900.

☞ Rev. Dr. Bethune once went on board of a crowded ferryboat, and was looking for a seat, when a man unknown to him started up and said: "Doctor, take my seat; it is an honor to give such a man a seat. Ever since I heard of that big church in New York trying to get you away by giving a call of $5,000 and you said you'd see 'em d—d first, I have had great respect for you, and I think it an honor to give you a seat."—Nashville Banner.

☞ It is said that "a corset is on exhibition at Dubuque which has squeezed three females to death." And now, if that remorseless corset would atone for its past crimes and win the eternal gratitude of mankind, let it take a good old healthy squeeze at Woodhuil, Claflin and Company.—Courier-Journal.

Grand Jury Presentments.

GEORGIA, CLAYTON COUNTY.

Superior Court, March Term, 1873.

We the Grand Jury chosen and sworn for the present term, beg leave to make the following presentments, viz;

We have, through our committees, examined as thoroughly as our time would admit, the books and vouchers of the several county officers. The books of the Clerk of Superior Court we find very neat. The Sheriff's books are also neatly kept. We find that the Sheriff has collected in fines $170 00, of which Solicitor General Howell received $490 00, and Clerk Munday $140, leaving a balance in the Sheriff's hands of $140 00.

We find the Ordinary's books in handsome order. The Ordinary has no funds in his hands except $195 00 of money collected for retail licenses.

We find from the tax digest due the county from taxes for 1871, $4,978 56, from which deduct Tax Collector's commission of $299 45, leaving balance due the county, $3,978 88, for all of which he has the County Treasurer's receipts.

We find the present County Treasurer's books and vouchers neatly and correctly kept. We find that he has received from the Tax Collector, $3,978 88, and from the Ordinary, $4,832 80, making a total of $8,802 78, and paid out as per vouchers, $4,758 15, commission due Treasurer, $133 05, leaving balance in Treasurer's hands, $3913 98.

We find the Court House in good repair except a few broken glass and blind hinges, which we recommend the Ordinary to have put in order.

We find the roads in much better order than formerly, though not fully up to the requirements to of the law, and we recommend the Ordinary to see that the Road Commissioners have put in order at once such parts of the roads as do not already come fully up to the requirements of the law.

We have had under consideration the subject of a County Court, and are unanimously of the opinion that this county does not need such a court.

We would here take the liberty to renew to the Ordinary the recommendation of the former Grand Jury, to take such steps as will effectually secure the county against loss on account of the misapplication of its funds by the former Treasurer.

We have examined the dockets of several Magistrates and Notary Public, and find them kept in the usual way. We would recommend the several Magistrates and Notary Publics to be more definite in future and enter in their dockets the amount of cost charged and collected and by whom paid. The Magistrates and Notary Publics of the 13th District and Panhandle District, have not presented their dockets for inspection.

In taking leave of his Honor, Judge Hopkins, we tender him our thanks for the able manner in which he has conducted his Courts, and also, to Solicitor General John T. Glenn, for his politeness and courtesy to this body.

We request that these Presentments be published in THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION and Clayton Times.

WHEAT STREET.—Curb stones are being placed in position on the upper part of this street.

STREET RAILWAY.—The extension of the line on Marietta street will be completed to-day as far as Broad street.

AMUSEMENTS.—Madame Janauschek having left the city, our only amusement is the fat woman and the horned pig.

REMOVAL.—L. B. Davis has removed to the store next door below his old stand. Mrs. Agnes Turner occupies part of the same store.

MAYOR'S COURT.—But three cases, and they of minor importance, were disposed of in the above court yesterday.

PREMIUM LIST.—The advanced sheets of the premium list for the next State Fair will be out in a few days. They include, among other things, the list of premiums for crops.

ART MEMORY.—With but few exceptions newspaper press have given highly flattering notices of "Heart Hungry." In consequence, the sales of the book are large.

NOTICE.—Dr. Harrison will preach at the First Methodist Church on Sabbath morning and night. Subject of the morning's discourse, The Transfiguration of Christ; evening's, Jacob at Penuel.

THE JAIL AND STATION HOUSE.—This building located on Pryor street is now being pushed forward, and soon another substantial-looking building will be finished on this growing street.

GREAT SALE of goodly dinner, with excellent drinks and fine cigars, next Wednesday morning. Special attention called to the advertisement of Bill & Goldsmith, Real Estate Agents.

HABEAS CORPUS CASE.—The case of Mr. W. P. Siler was up before Judge Daniel Pittman on yesterday, and after a hearing, Mr. Siler was permitted to give bail in the sum of $3,000 for his appearance before the superior Court in April.

ALL QUIET.—After the difficulty which occurred on Thursday night in the neighborhood of Castleberry's Hill between a few citizens and some Federal soldiers from the barracks, it was rumored that several parties were seriously injured. Upon inquiry it has been ascertained that the report was unfounded.

Editors Constitution: In your columns some time since mention was made of my connection with the editorial department of the Baltimore Episcopal Methodist. Permit me to say to my friends, and the public, that my relation to that paper will not cease my removal from Atlanta. I make this statement by request. WM. P. HARRISON.
Atlanta, March 15, 1872.

TRADE has been very quiet for several days. Everything but grain, flour and hay. The demand for corn has been steady, and prices obtained as quoted.

The demand for hay has been greater than the supply, and prices have advanced materially. Meats continue low with small inquiry.

A VALUABLE MILL FOR SALE.—We call attention to the advertisement of Commissioners Dyer, Ramsom and Robertson. This is one of the most valuable mill sites in the State, and parties wishing to make investments could not do better than to buy. The sale will take place at Calhoun the first Tuesday in May next.

COTTON EXCHANGE.—The is a report on the street of a Cotton Exchange in the city. Some of our business men object, saying that a Chamber of Commerce is a similar organization. There is a difference. One is a place for traffic, while the other is a place for commercial legislation. One cannot in following its legitimate business conflict with the other.

CITY COURT, JUDGE COWART PRESIDING.—The State vs. W. A. Ward, assault and battery. Mr. Ward was found not guilty, but it was recommended that the Court reprimand him for unbecoming conduct.

Jourdan Alexander, colored, was up for a misdemeanor and fined $25.

Charles M. Henry, colored, was up charged with larceny and the case continued until this morning.

RELIGIOUS NOTICE.—The Rt. Rev. Bishop Beckwith, D. D., will preach, and administer confirmation, in St. Phillips Church, Atlanta, on Sunday, March 17, 1872.

The services will be as foll ws: Morning service, 11 A. M.; Sunday School, 9 A. M.; anti-communion service, sermon, confirmation and holy communion, 12 A. M.; evening services, with sermon, 7½ P. M.

HIBERNIAN BALL.—The sixth anniversary ball of the Hibernian Benevolent Society of Atlanta came off at the new Concordia Hall April 3d. The Hibernians invariably contribute in a generous spirit to make an unqualified success of their annual balls. That this ball will be largely attended and will vividly recall the pleasant memories of its predecessors, no one will doubt. The inborn taste of the Hibernians for amusements, and pride they exhibit in everything they undertake, are guarantees that their consummation will be one "devoutly to be wished."

SALE OF CHROMOS.—Let no one forget the sale to night at Mayson's auction house of beautiful chromos. We attended a sale a few nights since, and were astonished at the low prices obtained. But it was stated that they must be all sold, and to-night the last picture will be disposed of. No household should be without its picture, and these chromos are sold so low that all can purchase. Remember, this is the last night. Another such opportunity may not be presented in a year. We doubt not a large crowd will be in attendance, and many obtain bargains.

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT.—The Court was in session yesterday, Hon. John Erskine presiding.

In the case which was before the Court of A. J. Montgomery, for the use, etc., vs. R. M. Clarke, the action case,) jury found for plaintiff the sum of $1877 50 principal with interest at 6 per cent. from July, 1866.

The case of M. E. McIntosh vs. P. N. Chisolm, being a bill for medical services, occupied the greater part of the day. After argument the case was submitted to the jury. Before bringing in their verdict the Court took a recess until this morning at 10 o'clock.

Editors Constitution: I was accompanied by a young gentleman to see Janauschek at DeGive's Opera House, on Wednesday night, and twice during the evening my escort left me alone. Once when the alarm of fire was heard, and then between the acts. Do you regard this as a breach of etiquette?

The above question has been asked us, and the reply is that it is not only a breach of etiquette, but of the attention and protection due a lady under the charge of a gentleman. It is a disrespectful act toward a lady, and should not be tolerated by her. It is not only reprehensible apart from etiquette, but a lady is liable to be insulted in the absence of her escort; and even the probability of an accident or danger occurring, which would require his immediate care of the lady under his charge. In fact it is a breach of decorum, and neglect of a lady, and should not be submitted to.

ST. PATRICK'S DAY.—To-morrow is recognized as the anniversary of the birthday of the good Saint Patrick the patron saint of the Emerald Isle. This day is observed by Irishmen with mingled feelings of reverence, jollity and hospitality—the prominent characteristics of the genuine Irishman. That they should venerate and honor the memory of St. Patrick is only natural, for he was a good missionary and planted the seeds of christianity in Ireland, and laid the foundations of schools and colleges. The Hibernians of Atlanta, who are, by the way, as devoted to Ireland's glassy streams, her "verdant vales and mountains high," as they are true to their adopted country, will have their annual parade on Monday, after which there will be an address at DeGive's Opera House, by Colonel Luther J. Glenn, and the proceedings will close with an election, as their hall, officers for the ensuing year.

May the elements not combine to mar the enjoyment of the day. What their own James Orr wished for them, we wish for them too, both at home and abroad:

"May plenty bloom in every field
Which gentle breezes softly fan,
And cheerful smiles serenely gild
The home of every Irishman."

Editors Constitution: It is always our purpose, when consistently we can, to consider as unpardonable such seeming neglect or oversight in our municipal management as might elicit comment and censure from others; but when we are made painfully aware of gross and shameful proceedings upon the part of those who are inappropriately termed our "City Fathers," from the carelessness of those employed by them and have to suffer from such recklessness, we feel warranted in raising our voice against such, and say to whom should be alleged the blame? While walking from the house of a friend on Thursday evening last, down Mitchell street, myself in company with two young ladies and a little girl, were precipitated into an excavation several feet in depth, which was dug directly across the walk, making a chasm well adapted to killing or crippling any one passing that way. No lights were there to warn, and as all was undistinguishable, we plunged into it, myself receiving a severe sprain, and the ladies with me falling quite out of reach of my assistance, causing them much fright and soiling their garments. The pit, if still open, is on Mitchell street, next to Mr. Goldsmith's residence, and will doubtless be the scene of a precipitate movement on the part of some other unsuspecting and innocent pedestrian. If there is any disconsolate young lawyer suffering from impecuniosity, we refer him to this "opening," where he may successfully emulate the rashness of the "Briefless Barrister."

It repairs the wastes of the body with new and sound material. Scrofula, Syphilis, Consumption, Glandular diseases, Ulcers in the throat, Mouth, Tumors, Nodes in the Glands and other parts of the system, Sore Eyes, Strumorous discharges from the Ears, and the worst forms of Skin diseases, Eruptions, Fever Sores, Scald Head, Ring Worm, Salt Rheum, Erysipelas, Acne, Black Spots, Worms in the Flesh, Tumors, Cancers in the Womb, and all weakening and painful discharges, Night Sweats, Loss of Sperm and all wastes of the life principle, are within the curative range of this wonder of Modern Chemistry, and a few days' use will prove to any person using it for either of these forms of disease its potent powers to cure them.

If the patient, daily becoming reduced by the wastes and decomposition that is continually progressing, succeeds in arresting these wastes, and repairs the same with new material made from healthy blood—and this the SARSAPARILLIAN will and does secure—a cure is certain; for when once this remedy commences its work of purification, and succeeds in diminishing the loss of wastes, its repairs will be rapid, and every day the patient will feel himself growing better and stronger, the food digesting better, appetite improving, and flesh and weight increasing.

PORTA NASCITUR, NON FIT.

The night has come, but not too soon;
Westward the course of empire takes its way;
Ye banks and braes of bonnie Doon;
Blue spirits and white, black spirits and gray.

Clocked in the cradle of the deep,
Old Casper's work was done
Piping on hollow reeds to his sheep,
Charge, Chester, charge! On, Stanley, on.

There was a sound of revelry by night,
On Linden, when the sun was low;
A voice replied far up the height,
Tall oaks from little acorns grow.

What if a little rain should say,
I have not loved the world, nor the world me;
Ah! well a day!
Woodman, spare the tree!

My heart leaps up with joy to see
A primrose by the water's brim;
Xccheus he did climb the tree;
Few of our youth could cope with him.

The prayer of Ajax was for light,
The light that was never on sea or shore
Puddings and beef make Britons fight
Never more!

Under a spreading chestnut tree,
For hours together sat
I and my Annabel Lee;
A man's a man for a' that.

Truth crushed to earth shall rise again,
And waste its sweetness on the desert air,
In thunder, lighting, or in rain,
None but the brave deserve the fair.

Tell me not in mournful numbers,
The child is father of the man;
Hush, my dear, lie still and slumber,
They can conquer who believe they can.

A change came o'er the spirit of my dream,
Whatever is, is right;
And things are not what they seem;
My native land good night.

MONEY IN THE HANDS OF THE PEOPLE. An examination and analysis of the reports of the Secretary of the Treasury and Comptoller of the Currency gives some very curious and useful information. The whole amount of United States notes and fractional currency outstanding is $382,000,000, of which amount the National Banks, 1,790 in number, hold $110,000,000, and the whole amount of National Bank notes issued is $327,000,000, of which amount the banks hold $13,000,000. From this it appears that out of the whole issue of $718,000,000 of circulating notes the National Banks hold but $123,000,000, thus leaving the enormous amount of $590,000,000 in circulation, which must be mainly in the hands of the people.

LASSITUDE AND DEBILITY.—The relaxation of nervous energy which creates an indisposition to physical or mental effort, so strong as almost to amount to positive inability, and which we term lassitude, proceeds from a variety of causes. The principal of these are constitutional debility, heat of the atmosphere, coupled with humidity, climatic changes, and the physical prostration consequent upon a long illness. But whatever the cause, it must be perfectly clear that if the nervous system is unduly relaxed, something is required to brace it up. That something is Hostetter's Bitters, which is universally recognized as the most complete and speedy recuperant of the physical forces in existence. It has been so thoroughly and widely demonstrated as to be a matter of positive certainty and familiar knowledge, that the Bitters will not only rehabilitate the physique, when shattered and wasted by disease, but will also, if taken systematically, actually compensate the constitutionally feeble frame for its deficiency of strength, and by infusing new life into a weak system, endow it with itthe health and vigor which Nature has denied it. The bitters also enable the body to resist the enervating influences of heat, humidity, and changes from a temperate to a hot climate. It is on these accounts specially to be recommended to travelers and residents in the torrid zone, and persons subjected to abrupt transitions in temperature.

OFFICE SECRETARY OF STATE,
ATLANTA, GA., December 12, 1871.

The above and foregoing four pages of written matter contain a true and correct copy of the original of file in this office.

Given under my hand and the seal of office.

DAVID G. CONTING,
Secretary of State.

To all whom it may concern:

Notice is hereby given, that we, the undersigned Joint committee, appointed by the President of the Senate and Speaker of the House of Representatives, under authority of the foregoing act of the General Assembly of Georgia, will begin our sittings in the city of Atlanta, State of Georgia, United States of America, on the first day of March, 1872, and will remain in session until the first day of May, 1872, for the purposes indicated in said act.

The attention of persons owning or holding the bonds of the State of Georgia, or the bonds of railroads indorsed by the State of Georgia, and who expect to present the same to the committee, is called to the first section of said act, as to the nature of the testimony required.

Persons desiring to communicate with the committee will address Thomas J. Simmons, Chairman, care of N. L. Angier, State Treasurer, Atlanta, Ga.

Signed at the Capitol, in the city of Atlanta, State of Georgia, United States of America, the 12th day of December, 1871.

SLEEPLESSNESS.—Sleeplessness comes from poverty of the blood, the irritability of the brain tissue consumes the nutrition of the blood too rapidly. Sedatives and narcotics may relieve for a time, but as they do not remove the cause they do not cure, soon lose their power, and sleep is sought for in vain. The only true remedy is that which builds up the system, renews life action, strengthens the brain, and gives to the blood those materials lost by a diseased condition. Such a remedy may be found in Dr. Price's Blood Enricher, better in the long run than all the sleep producing agents known. Druggists have it for sale.

SUICIDE COMMITTED.—As the result of an inactive state of the liver and stomach, producing headache, obtuse intellect, dullness, despondency, dementia, and finally insanity, is no uncommon occurrence. All these disagreeable symptoms and bad feelings are most certainly dispelled by the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It revitalizes and builds up the whole system. A little book on Chronic Diseases sent free. Address R. V. Pierce, M. D., Buffalo, N. Y. Golden Medical Discovery sold by all druggists.

VITALITY THE HAIR.—Why does the hair become harsh and dry—why does it fall out—why does it become gray? Simply because the life has gone out of it. The fibres draw sustenance from the scalp as the grass draws aliment from the soil, and when the supply of nutriment is cut off in either case the product withers and dies at the first symptoms of decay, therefore, the unfed or half-fed roots of the hair should be refreshed and reinforced with Lyon's Kathairon, the only preparation which will nourish the filaments and keep them in a vigorous condition after they have begun to suffer from a deficiency of their natural stimulant. As long as the Kathairon is faithfully used, with a proper degree of friction, morning and evening, so long will it be impossible for the hair to whiten or fall out from the scalp.

THIS is no intoxicating beverage or doctored liquor, to lead the tippler on to drunkenness and ruin, but a strictly medicinal preparation made from roots and herbs, suitable to any age or condition. As a family remedy, Simmons' Liver Regulator is equal to an entire medicine chest.

DEAD MEN TELL NO TALES:—If they did, anathemas against the depleting lancet, the drastic purge, and the terrible salivants of the materia medica, would arise from every graveyard. The motto of modern medical science is "Preserve and Regulate, not destroy," and no remedy of our day is so entirely in harmony with this philanthropic logic as Dr. Walker's Vegetable Vinegar Bitters. In this powerful, yet harmless restorative dyspepsia, bilious complaints, and all diseases of the stomach, liver, bowels and nerves, encounter an irresistible antidote.

The wheat crops in Newton county are looking fine. The freshet on last Saturday night broke the rock wall of Floyd's mill race. Covington depot and surroundings has been full to overflowing with guanos since the season opened. Covington was visited on last Saturday night by a shower which raised Dried Indian Creek higher than the oldest settlers remember ever having seen it before. A negro by the name of George Avery, attempted to cross the ford above Floyd's mill some time during the night, on a mule, and was found next morning wrapped around a sapling stiff and stark, about half a mile below the mill. A jury was summoned to the spot, and an inquest held over him. Their decision was that he came to his death suddenly, by attempting to cross too deep a creek, on too small a mule. ☞ "Adversity," said a Western preacher, "takes us up short, and sets us down hard. When it is done, we feel as contented as a child that's spanked, and set away to cool."

COTTON!

Some Strong Facts, and Sensible Deductions.

NEW YORK, March 13, 1872.

Editors Constitution: For the past twelve months the price of cotton has gone up and down until it rose nine cents per pound. For the next year it may go down and up the same amount. One great cause of the rise was that cotton dealers all over the world believed it would go up, and it did so. Now the planters still think it will remain high, while consumers and dealers believe it is too high, and must go down. Liverpool is now lower than it has been in six weeks, which surprises many, who say the receipts are falling off so fast—80,000 bales last week and 58,000 bales this week, there will soon be no cotton in the country.

The planters have all sent forward their crop to port. There is no more in planters' hands, and the supply will be exhausted before another crop can be raised, and we will hold our cotton for the high prices which are sure to come. Those who believe the price is too high say that the general belief is that the crop will be one and a quarter millions less than last year, and as we are now only 750,000 bales short, how can there be 500,000 more short with only 20 per cent. of the crop to come forward—that notwithstanding our very short crop there are 75,000 bales more cotton for sale now than this time last year, and 500,000 more in the hands of spinners; that the receipt at the interior towns will be 50 per cent more for the next four weeks than in 1869–70, and nearly as much as last years, showing very clearly that all the cotton is not out of the country. Some parties say the amount carried overland will be much less—only 170,000 bales. This will be 16,000 bales more than 1869 and '70, and only 50,000 bales less than last year; while our own spinners have taken from the port 100,000 bales more than for 1869 and '70, and 30,000 bales more than last year up to this time, showing they are well stocked up. That the receipts into Bombay for the past five months are three times as much as last year, same time. That although our receipts are falling off so rapidly, it will not enect the price in Liverpool, as the majority of dealers there only expect a crop of three millions bales. That American cotton is now too much higher than India about seven cents per pound, and that the India is now being mixed with American to such an extent that although Manchester spinners have bought 75,000 bales per week for eight weeks, and 55,000 bales per week for same time, still they have bought less American than last year, and business is so very dull at Manchester that speculators are getting uneasy and selling their goods at less than spinners are willing to sell at. This is of itself a great element of weakness.

Much has been written to induce planters to plant less cotton. This is time thrown away, as they will always say, "I do not thank you for the advice; you only want us to plant less so you can get a larger price for what you have on hand." Now the prices will soon touch bottom for the present, and then will react a little. If this communication will cause any planter to sell his cotton at the present very high price instead of holding and, perhaps, taking much less, we shall be fully repaid and possibly may write you again on the same subject.

AN OLD COTTON PLANTER.

☞ Ah, this beautiful world! I know not what to think of it. Sometimes it is all sunshine and gladness, and heaven itself lies not far off, and then it suddenly changes, and is dark and sorrowful, and the clouds shut out the day. In the lives of the saddest of us their are bright days like this, when we feel as if we could take the great world into our arms. Then come gloomy hours, when the fire will not burn on our hearths, and all without and within is dismal, cold and dark. Believe me, every heart has its secret sorrows, which the world knows not, and oftentimes we call a man cold when he is only sad.—Longfellow.
